ORDER OF DETENTION PENDING TRIAL

Part I - Eligibility for Detention

Upoi	n the Motion of the Government attorney pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3142(f)(1), or ☐ Motion of the Government or Court's own motion pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3142(f)(2), the Court held a detention hearing and found that detention is warranted. This order sets forth the Court's findings of fact and conclusions of law, as required by 18 U.S.C. § 3142(i), in addition to any other findings made at the hearing.

Part II - Findings of Fact and Law as to Presumptions under § 3142(e)

A. Rebuttable Presumption Arises Under 18 U.S.C. § 3142(e)(2) (previous violator): There is a rebuttable presumption that no condition or combination of conditions will reasonably assure the safety of any other person and the community because the following conditions have been met:
\square (1) the defendant is charged with one of the following crimes described in 18 U.S.C. § 3142(f)(1):
(a) a crime of violence, a violation of 18 U.S.C. § 1591, or an offense listed in 18 U.S.C.
§ 2332b(g)(5)(B) for which a maximum term of imprisonment of 10 years or more is prescribed; or \square (b) an offense for which the maximum sentence is life imprisonment or death; or
(c) an offense for which a maximum term of imprisonment of 10 years or more is prescribed in the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. §§ 801-904), the Controlled Substances Import and Export Act (21 U.S.C. §§ 951-971), or Chapter 705 of Title 46, U.S.C. (46 U.S.C. §§ 70501-70508); or
(a) through (c) of this paragraph, or two or more State or local offenses that would have been offenses described in subparagraphs (a) through (c) of this paragraph (c) of this paragraph if a circumstance giving rise to Federal jurisdiction had existed, or a combination of such offenses; or
(e) any felony that is not otherwise a crime of violence but involves:
(i) a minor victim; (ii) the possession of a firearm or destructive device (as defined in 18 U.S.C. § 921); (iii) any other dangerous weapon; or (iv) a failure to register under 18 U.S.C. § 2250; and
(2) the defendant has previously been convicted of a Federal offense that is described in 18 U.S.C.
§ 3142(f)(1), or of a State or local offense that would have been such an offense if a circumstance giving rise to Federal jurisdiction had existed; and
(3) the offense described in paragraph (2) above for which the defendant has been convicted was committed while the defendant was on release pending trial for a Federal, State, or local offense; and
(4) a period of not more than five years has elapsed since the date of conviction, or the release of the defendant from imprisonment, for the offense described in paragraph (2) above, whichever is later.

☑ B. Rebuttable Presumption Arises Under 18 U.S.C. § 3142(e)(3) (narcotics, firearm, other offenses): There is a rebuttable presumption that no condition or combination of conditions will reasonably assure the appearance of the defendant as required and the safety of the community because there is probable cause to believe that the defendant of the feether is probable cause to believe that the defendant of the feether is probable cause to believe that the defendant of the feether is probable cause to believe that the defendant of the feether is probable cause to believe that the defendant of the feether is probable cause to believe that the defendant of the feether is probable cause to believe that the defendant of the feether is probable cause to believe that the defendant of the feether is probable cause to believe that the defendant of the feether is probable cause to be a feether in the feether is probable cause to be a feether in the feether in the feether is probable cause to be a feether in the fe

(2) an offense under 18 U.S.C. §§ 924(c), 956(a), or 2332b;
(3) an offense listed in 18 U.S.C. § 2332b(g)(5)(B) for which a maximum term of imprisonment of 10 year or more is prescribed;	îS
(4) an offense under Chapter 77 of Title 18, U.S.C. (18 U.S.C. §§ 1581-1597) for which a maximum term of imprisonment of 20 years or more is prescribed; or	of
(5) an offense involving a minor victim under 18 U.S.C. §§ 1201, 1591, 2241, 2242, 2244(a)(1), 2245, 2251, 2251A, 2252(a)(1), 2252(a)(2), 2252(a)(3), 2252A(a)(1), 2252A(a)(2), 2252A(a)(3), 2252A(a)(4), 2260, 2421, 2422, 2423, or 2425.
☑C. Conclusions Regarding Applicability of Any Presumption Established Above
The defendant has not introduced sufficient evidence to rebut the presumption above, and detention is ordered on that basis. (Part III need not be completed.)
OR
The defendant has presented evidence sufficient to rebut the presumption, but after considering the presumption and the other factors discussed below, detention is warranted.

AO 472 (Rev. 11/16) Order of Detention Pending Trial
AO 472 (Rev. 11/16) Order of Detention Pending Trial Significant family or other ties outside the United States Lack of legal status in the United States Subject to removal or deportation after serving any period of incarceration Prior failure to appear in court as ordered Prior attempt(s) to evade law enforcement Use of alias(es) or false documents Background information unknown or unverified Prior violations of probation, parole, or supervised release
OTHER REASONS OR FURTHER EXPLANATION:
Based on the charges in the Indictment, the Court finds that there is a rebuttable presumption that the defendant is a risk of nonanppearance and a danger to the community. In this instance, the defendant was allegedly selling Fentanyl and guns to someone that he thought was a person who was going to use them in a way that is not lawful. The defendant has a four-year-old child who was present during many of these deals. At one point, the defendant left his child in a car alone with a person who was luckily an undercover police officer, but whom the defendant believed was someone who was buying guns and drugs. The defendant's girlfriend was present during some of those deals. Based on the government's proffer, the Court finds it difficult to believe that the defendant's mother, with whom he lived, did not know anything that was going on. When the search warrant was executed on the defendant's and his mother's house, fifteen guns, nine-hundred rounds of ammunition, high-capacity magazines, one of which was loaded, were found in his bedroom. Some of the guns found were in a safe but, as proffered by the government, many of them were not. There were approximately one thousand Fentanyl pills found in the defendant's bedroom, of which not all were in the safe. Additionally, there was a money counter, a pill counter, packaging, and switches for machine guns found in the defendant's bedroom. One of the guns found was a ghost gun. Based on everything found in the defendant's bedroom, the Court finds it difficult to believe the defendant's mother did not know what was happening. The defendant's bedroom, the Court finds it difficult to believe the defendant's mother did not know what was happening. The defendant's girlfriend, who was present at some of the deals, certainly knew what was happening. With everything presented, the Court cannot trust that the defendant's mother or girlfriend can be trusted to be a third-party custodian. As a result, the Court finds that the defendant has not rebutted the presumption in this c
Part IV - Directions Regarding Detention
The defendant is remanded to the custody of the Attorney General or to the Attorney General's designated representative for confinement in a corrections facility separate, to the extent practicable, from persons awaiting or serving sentences of being held in custody pending appeal. The defendant must be afforded a reasonable opportunity for private consultation with defense counsel. On order of a court of the United States or on request of an attorney for the Government, the person in charge of the corrections facility must deliver the defendant to a United States Marshal for the purpose of an appearance in connection with a court proceeding.
